A contestant can enter as many fish as he wants, but LRGF limits each fisherman to winning one cash prize. In the event of a tie weight, the first fish weighed in wins the highest earned prize and the next in the tie would follow in placing. Fish weights and sizes will be posted.

All fish must be alive at the time of the weigh-in. Frozen fish will not be weighed. Any fish that is weighed is considered "in the possession of the Entrant" and counts towards the Entrant's daily bag limit, per Colorado Division of Wildlife.
